

Professional Communication: What Message Are You Sending?

*Be connected. Be effective.
Make a positive difference.*

Keynote and Seminar Overview

- Learn how to get known as a “true professional,” someone who can connect, inspire and motivate in a wide range of communication forums.
- Understand how to build trust and loyalty with a new generation of leaders.
- Connect with clients, and succeed in tactical communication with regulators.
- Learn, laugh, and ponder while I illustrate my points with personal stories and examples.

Exceptional communicators are personable, engaging, interactive, and have the gift of connecting with employees and clients. They understand the benefits of personal interactions in different forums such as elevators, lunch rooms, meetings, presentations, town hall communication meetings, and award banquets. Brilliant communicators take the time to learn techniques that make them shine. This presentation will demonstrate strategies to help you achieve brilliance in business communication.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

- Create long lasting relationships with your clients and employees.
- Elevate performance and morale.
- Enhance teamwork, motivation, and recognition.
- Save time and money with purposeful communication.

DAVE HILL

Dave has worked in many different roles - from the corporate office, to risk insurance companies, to worldwide cargo ships. He has an in-depth understanding of the characteristics that can lead a workplace to sustained excellence.

